

STAR

*I know my name I know my name
Nobody is gonna make me forget Cause I know my name now
Nobody is gonna make me forget Cause I know my name now
My name is freedom My name is revenge
My name is song of justice and forever is
*It doesn't belong to anybody
It doesn't belong to anything to go and change it
It doesn't belong to anybody
It doesn't belong to anything to go and change it
Cause my name, oh my name is star, star

It has been taken away for so long
Now it's wholly mine again
And I am gonna use it now, now, now!
Cause, God, I know, how to use it now

You're gonna see the light from the thunder
Taking revenge for all the nameless lives
Calling revenge for all the voiceless souls,
Getting revenge for all the powerless beings

*It doesn't belong to anybody
It doesn't belong to anything to go and change it
It doesn't belong to anybody
It doesn't belong to anything to go and change it
Cause my name, oh my name, is STAR and has always been Oh Star And will always be and star my name is star*

Revenge is gonna scream to freedom
Scream to liberate all oppressed victims
Scream to set free all unspoken violences
Scream to spread the unlistened truths

A loud groan is gonna spring from the earth
Will meet the anger falling from the sky
To revenge the humiliated stars
Blood will be called first

The moon will flame in red
The light will disappear into mourning
The Lands of injustice will burn out
And by the morning, justice will be done
Cause God I know, oh God I know

Chorus

With no more shade
With no more shade ever
With no more shade
My name is Star STAaaaaaR and has always been Star And will always be and star my name is star
